Premier's Physical Activity Taskforce

Sport and Recreation building stronger, healthier, happier and safer communities.

For Board Members and Upper Management of profile 1 & 2 State Sporting Associations, the Governance & Leadership Workshop Series aims to develop the skills and expertise of professionals working in the sport industry through improved leadership, long-term performance of organisations and capacity to lead and manage programs, resources and people.

The first of these workshops will focus on the topic of Governance and will look to cover content including understanding basic corporate governance definitions and principles.

These workshops will allow an opportunity for discussion and debate on the application of appropriate corporate governance in sport and recreation.

Presented by David Armstrong

A consultant specialising in association management in the sport and recreation and not for profit and sectors, David Armstrong brings a wealth of knowledge, skills and experience to the table, to provide practical outcomes in matters relating to governance and leadership.

David has worked as a development officer and chief executive for a variety of not for profit and sport and recreation organisations for more than 20 years.

Together with his tertiary communication and post graduate qualifications in business, this has seen him enlisted to work with Boards and CEOs across Australia providing knowledge on:

- Strategic and organisational planning
- Association governance
- Finance and risk management
- Communication
- Policy and procedures

David is looking forward to sharing his expertise for the purpose of developing leaders in the sport and recreation industry.
