

How to access Clubs Online

Go to www.dsr.wa.gov.au/clubsonline

To get full access and take advantage of all that Clubs Online has to offer, you will need to register as a user on Clubs Online.

To register as a user:

1. Visit www.dsr.wa.gov.au/clubsonline
2. Register as a user
3. Log in

Registering your club

'Find a Club' is a searchable online database on Clubs Online that allows people to find and contact sport and recreation clubs in their area.

To register for 'Find a Club':

1. Visit www.dsr.wa.gov.au/clubsonline
2. Register as a user
3. Log in and click on 'Add a club to Find a Club'
4. Enter your club's details

Club podcasts

A selection of podcasts are available to listen to, read or download onto your computer or mp3 player.

Contact details for Clubs Online

Department of Sport and Recreation

Phone 9492 9700

Fax 9492 9711

clubsonline@dsr.wa.gov.au

OR

Your local Club Development Officer

Find them at:

www.dsr.wa.gov.au/find-my-cdo

Clubs Online forum

The 'Clubs Online forum' uses the same login so you can easily post questions, comments and discuss topics relating to sport and recreation clubs in Western Australia.

Clubs Online

Making a community of clubs

A guide to using Clubs Online to its full potential for the benefit of your sport or recreation club.

Government of Western Australia
Department of Sport and Recreation

Sport and recreation builds stronger,
healthier,
happier and safer communities.

What is Clubs Online?

Clubs Online is the place for sport and recreation clubs in Western Australia to communicate with other clubs, the Department of Sport and Recreation and Club Development Officers (CDOs). It provides clubs with an opportunity to share ideas and access useful resources for all things club-related.

What will I find on Clubs Online?

FAQ

Is it true our club can get a free website?

Yes! Simply register with 'Find a Club' through Clubs Online and your club will be eligible for its own simple to build website. You can easily add your club information, logo and colours, and the site automatically uploads the latest club-related news for WA.

Use simple tools to share your website and create member only pages. Create a mailing list to regularly update your members and add elements like photos and contact forms – and it really is easy!

What is a blog?

A blog is an ongoing diary or commentary, in this case regularly posted by our network of Club Development Officers (CDOs) who are based at various local governments across the state. The 'CDO blogs' are a great way to keep up to date with what's happening in relation to clubs in your local area and state-wide.

How can the forum help me to communicate with other clubs?

A forum is an online discussion site where you can read and respond to people's posts on a message board.

The 'Clubs forum' allows you to post questions on a topic and take advantage of other club people's knowledge and expertise, and to share your own.

How can Clubs Online get more people involved with our club, and help us to find more volunteers?

The 'Find a Club' feature helps you search for and contact clubs in your area.

You can also browse for 'Clubs seeking volunteers' using the 'Volunteers exchange', or post your own notice under 'Volunteers seeking clubs'.

If you want to find out more about the responsibilities of a particular volunteer role, check out the range of booklets in the 'Clubhouse resources' section.

How can Clubs Online help us to recognise those volunteers who contribute so much to our club?

The 'Club legends' feature on Clubs Online allows you to sing the praises of your club's unsung heroes by posting their profile and photo.

We hope this feature will help to recognise those wonderful people who give up their time to make clubs work and also attract more volunteers to your club. A great way to say 'thank you'!

What types of resources can I find on Clubs Online?

You will find a range of Clubhouse booklets, useful documents to download and information about starting a new club, podcasts, plus much more!